ABOUT EARTH REBIRTH

Earth Rebirth is an award-winning nonprofit organization founded in 2011 in Norman, OK. We are dedicated to bridging the gaps between local environmental and economic problems. We are helping people address the three most important resources in life – food, energy and water – with community solutions that can both make money and protect the natural world. We all want to live better, and we must work together to do so.

OUR IMPACT

Earth Rebirth is best known for our Garden Your Own Growth program and the goal to establish school gardens at every school in Norman and have those garden raise money for the classroom. At least 17 out of 25 Norman Public Schools have a school garden, including the Norman High Aquaponics system. In addition, Earth Rebirth offers consulting services to support school garden projects and we have helped over 150 customers across Norman set up and improve home edible gardens.

Our goal is to help expand school gardening to school districts with 4-day school weeks or student assisted-lunch participation higher than 60%.

Earth Rebirth has also completed several community campaign projects including BOB the Borrow a Book, a micro-library on campus corner and the Public Pantry near downtown Main Street. These projects encourage local support for one another and an exchange of resources, allowing others to get the most out of community resources.
